RENOLIT Website now Online after Comprehensive Relaunch

Standardized Platform Simplifies Information Search

Following a comprehensive relaunch, the RENOLIT company website is now online. The manufacturer of high-quality plastic films and products has now merged all existing websites in a standardized platform on www.renolit.com. The new structure of the company's website is now better aligned to the diverse application areas of RENOLIT products. It replaces the former alignment to business areas and greatly simplifies the search for information.

The German and English language Corporate Website includes all Group-relevant subjects such as company profile, innovation, product overview, press releases or information about career opportunities at RENOLIT. Furthermore, there are various sections designed to meet the needs of target-group-specific contact with customers. These are aligned to the design of the Corporate Website and are available in correspondingly market-relevant language versions.

RENOLIT's Chairman of the Board, Michael Kundel adds: "With our new internet presence we are satisfying the needs of our customers. The modern, uniform presentation sharpens the focus on the company's Corporate Image and underlines the professionalism of RENOLIT."
