SPOT ON RENOLIT EXOFOL PFX LOIRE OAK

New trend from old culture.

Loire Oak – a symbol of durability and elegance

The Loire Valley is associated with its abundant produce and pleasant lifestyle. Magnificent castles from different architectural eras, with opulent halls and extensive gardens, have been inhabited for centuries. At the heart of this enchanting combination of nature, history and culture, the Loire Valley is home to the largest area of forest in France. Oaks account for more than half of the forest of Orléans which have watched over the region and its inhabitants since time immemorial. Our new RENOLIT EXOFOL PFX Loire Oak décor now invites you to experience the subtle majesty of the Loire oaks.

RENOLIT EXOFOL PFX Loire Oak Super-Matt – subtle character

Oak trees represent strength and longevity in many cultures, as the wood is the embodiment of sturdiness. RENOLIT EXOFOL PFX Loire Oak Super-Matt emulates these characteristics of its natural counterpart. With its deep texture and authentic feel, the décor conveys a timeless, self-confident elegance - enhanced by its colours, which range from grey-blue to beige and light brown.

OUR JOURNEY TO NEW TRENDS

We humans always experience ourselves as limited in body and soul. Therefore, „man is a journey“, as the poet Novalis stated. Curiosity drives us humans to constantly discover new spaces and expand our horizons. We want to explore the unknown in order to have new experiences that delight our senses and open up new perspectives. The journey, the travel, knows no end. Our trend service Colour Road has also been travelling. Its Trend Report 2022/23 TRAVELLING INTO NEW DIMENSIONS takes us on a colour journey that is as imaginative as it is fascinating.

A discovery from the heart of Europe is Loire Oak, a universally versatile material from the Loire Valley that is used in castles and palaces as well as in farmhouses, barns and wine barrels. The subtle charm of RENOLIT EXOFOL PFX Loire Oak spreads this charming country house style with a touch of savoir vivre.

Spot on trend, then, our new décor RENOLIT EXOFOL PFX Loire Oak.
